

A TACOMA, WASHINGTON, CLERGYMAN

"I want you to know that I, who have been getting National Economic Council Letters for a number of years, am heartily in accord with your strong American stand."

A LOUISIANA COLLEGE PRESIDENT

"The National Economic Council Letter is an excellent publication and one that is widely read on this campus."

LANDON THOMAS

President, Jno. P. King Manufacturing Co., Augusta, Ga.

The Economic Council Letter is a courageous publication which deserves wide circulation, if our constitutional form of government is to be saved."

AN OHIO HOUSEWIFE

"Keep plugging—you are doing a magnificent job."

A PENNSYLVANIA CONGRESSMAN

"For the past two years I have been very much interested in the Economic Council Letter. I have enjoyed reading it and have found it valuable in my position as a Member of Congress."

A NEW YORK STATE CLERGYMAN

"Just a line to express my appreciation for the material that is being put out by the National Economic Council. It is stimulating and constructive in every way."

A GEORGIA INDUSTRIALIST

"We think yours is an excellent work and we read your publications with great interest upon receiving each and every one of them."

A RETIRED INDUSTRIALIST, San Diego, California

"I am more than happy to renew by subscription to your Letters. Just could not do without them. I feel sure that you are one of the strongest factors in the education and welfare of the American people."

C. M. GOETHE, Sacramento, California

Honorary President, The American Coalition

"When eugenic leadership, worldwide, is being tragically liquidated (15,000,000 in China, along with an estimated 20,000,000 now approaching death slowly in concentration camps), the efforts of National Economic Council toward preserving clarity of thinking in America, with our responsibility of world leadership, can hardly be estimated. Its contribution is priceless."

A CONGRESSMAN from Iowa

"I shall look forward to the continued receipt of the Economic Council publications during the forthcoming Congress. Your organization is performing a valuable service."

A CONGRESSMAN from Washington State

"Keep your bulletins coming to my desk. They are most interesting and informative."

A CONGRESSMAN from Tennessee

"I always look forward to receiving the Economic Council Letter and read with pleasure the information contained in this valuable publication."

A CONGRESSMAN from Minnesota

"The information contained in your publications has been very helpful to me, and was of particular benefit during the recent campaign."

A CONGRESSMAN from Michigan

"I always read carefully the Economic Council Letter and consider it of vital importance as a safeguard for the American way of life."

A CONGRESSMAN from Georgia

"I am enclosing herewith $1.00 to cover the cost of eight (8) copies of Economic Council Letter No. 379, dated March 15, 1956."

A CONGRESSMAN from Wisconsin

"Your Letters are must reading not only for myself but for every member of my staff."

THE CHAIRMAN of a large Eastern manufacturing company

"A broader reading public of the Council's Letters might save our country from the sad awakening I feel we are headed for, if we continue to follow the Socialistic trend we have been following since the early thirties."

A retired VICE-PRESIDENT of one of America's greatest corporations

"I have long been a subscriber to the National Economic Council, and have found their regular Letter interesting and thought-provoking."

A CHRISTIAN MINISTER in a small Nevada town

"I have read EVERY 'Letter' avidly and have appreciated having facts and warnings authoritatively given by you. Not too infrequently I have used your statements and information in my sermons. On the basis of your statements I have had my congregation write government officers."

NATIONAL ECONOMIC COUNCIL, INC.

7501 Empire State Building

New York 1, N. Y.

Utica Office: 903 First National Bank Bldg., Utica 2, N. Y.

THIS IS WHAT THEY SAY

SPRUILLE BRADEN, New York, N. Y.

Former Ambassador and Assistant Secretary of State

"The United States would have nothing to fear from Communism or anything else if enough citizens could read and absorb the contents of the hard-hitting and patriotic, intelligent and accurate National Economic Council Letters."

L. R. CLAUSEN

Chairman, J. I. Case Company, Racine, Wis.

"I have been a regular subscriber and supporter of National Economic Council because it is different. The Council is correctly interpreting the facts in foreign as well as domestic affairs, and they of the Council live in a world of truth and fact instead of a world of fantasy and make-believe."

From a STUDENT in another Eastern University

"I wish that every young man my age could read the Council Letters. I know from experience that college graduates of today have been thoroughly indoctrinated, especially by the Government and History Departments of our Universities in the so-called 'evils of our capitalistic system,' and how we should tolerate communism and its second cousin socialism."

J. H. GIPSON, Sr.

President, Caxton Printers, Ltd., Caldwell, Idaho

"It seems there are never enough hours in the working days to let me get through the work which I had planned, and to do the reading that I want to do, but somehow, some way I find time to read the Economic Council Letters. They are splendid, and I think every thoughtful American should read them."

GEORGE B. HOWELL

President, Marine Bank & Trust Company, Tampa, Fla.

"Just a note to congratulate you upon the excellent job National Economic Council is doing. There are so few organizations in America today that take the time to dig out the facts that it is very illuminating to study your Letters."

J. S. KIMMEL

President, Republic Electric Company, Davenport, Iowa

"The writer feels constrained to express to you his appreciation of your publications, especially the Economic Council Letter. You are rendering a distinct service to our Nation by bringing to the attention of the citizens certain events and tendencies that are in the public interest, no matter how viewed."

DR. EDMOND E. LINCOLN, Wilmington, Del.

Economist, Business Consultant, Author

"I have always found the Economic Council Letters helpful and stimulating. You continually summarize and simplify many of the most important policies which confront our Nation in these times of peril and crisis. All thoughtful citizens should read them."

JAMES D. MOONEY, New York, N. Y.

Former Executive Vice President, General Motors Corporation

"I have been an admirer for a long time of your courage in your fight against collectivism in our country, especially as expressed in Economic Council Letters. Keep up the good work. You deserve every encouragement."

THE HONORABLE LAWRENCE H. SMITH

Congressman, First District, Wisconsin

"I always welcome the receipt of the Economic Council Letter. It is informative and a valuable publication in connection with my work as a Representative."

KENNETH S. TEMPLETON

Industrialist; Former President, Chicago Board of Trade

"Had these Economic Council Letters been compulsory reading for students of American schools for the past fifteen or twenty years, I feel certain that our beloved country would not be in the unenviable spot in which she finds herself today."

GEORGE O. BLUME of the Baltimore Bar

"Economic Council Letters are devastatingly clear and factual. You are doing a wonderful job. I look forward with interest to the disclosures you promise in future Letters."

A GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEE

"Sorry I cannot spare more [$25], as I'm only a low paid Government clerk. I think the National Economic Council Letters are wonderful."

LT. GEN. P. A. DEL VALLE, U.S.M.C., Rtd.

"The excellence of the material in the Economic Council Letters, and the manner and timeliness of its presentation are such as to make it extremely difficult to pick one for special appreciation and praise."

BURTON K. WHEELER, Washington, D. C.

Lawyer, former U. S. Senator

"I always read the Economic Council Letter with a great deal of interest. It tends to give me a picture which does not come with other publications. . . . It is out of the welter of debate that the truth emerges."

E. L. WIEGAND, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Founder and now Board Chairman, Edwin L. Wiegand Co.

"I have read the Economic Council Letters for a number of years, and find them quite authoritative, conservative, and certainly very temperate under the circumstances of these days."

MAJOR GENERAL C. A. WILLOUGHBY, U. S. Army, Rtd.

Author, Lecturer, Chief of Intelligence to General MacArthur, 1939-1951

"For twenty-five years the National Economic Council and its President have been in the forefront of the fight to offset the calculated 'brain-washing' in the last decade by 'one-world' fanatics and Fabian welfare state advocates, . . . who are quite agreeable to sacrifice the American heritage to a vague scheme of super-government, which has already failed."

DR. FELIX WITTMER, Upper Montclair, N. J.

Author, Lecturer, Educator

"Economic Council Letter contains pertinent information which our leftist-oriented press deliberately overlooks, and it is always scrupulously documented. I am pleased with its high standard and have been keeping it in my reference files for many years."

REAR ADMIRAL HUSBAND E. KIMMEL, U. S. Navy, Rtd.

"Letters of the National Economic Council deal with timely subjects that are of paramount interest to all Americans. The treatment is factual, clear and convincing."

The late LAMMOT DU PONT

"If Council warnings had been heeded, our country, with her institutions of freedom, would not be in the danger she is today. In my judgment the National Economic Council has correctly analyzed the critical situation now confronting American business—and all Americans. From Council Letters one gets facts and ideas not obtainable through ordinary channels."

THE HONORABLE NOAH MASON

Congressman, 15th District, Illinois

"I have been receiving your Economic Council Letter for several years. It is an excellent treatise on real Americanism. I read each Letter with both pleasure and profit, and often use the substance of it in my speeches and correspondence."

DONALD R. WESTMAN

Senior in Harvard College

"The Council Letter is always constructive and to the point. It deals plainly with the main issues, even the controversial ones, without ever losing a sense of perspective and balance."

FROM BRIGADIER GENERAL BONNER FELLERS,
National Director "For America"

"This is a time of unbalanced budgets, deficit spending, foreign aid, confiscatory taxes, deception, conscription and inadequate defense. The protesting National Economic Council is a voice crying in the wilderness. But it will yet be heard and its contribution will be great."

MRS. MARCIA MATTHEWS

Well-known patriot from Texas

"If ONLY I had the money, I could use extras every printing. You are doing a superb job, Americans, and our thanks to you!"

A MARYLAND INDUSTRIALIST

"May I take this opportunity to say that I believe your publication is most informative and will greatly benefit all who read it."

A FORMER TEXAS CONGRESSMAN

"I cannot close this letter without thanking you for sending me, during my service in the House, the Economic Council Letter. I always read it with great interest and nearly always with entire agreement with the views expressed."

A SOUTH CAROLINA COLLEGE PRESIDENT

"I read National Economic Council news with much interest. I wish you continued progress in your splendid efforts."

A TEXAS EDITOR

"I think some of the soundest material currently in circulation is put out by the National Economic Council. . . . I believe more and more Americans are waking up to what is happening to the Republic, but whether there are enough to turn back the tide, I would not know. . . . You are putting out, as always, some very powerful stuff which the American public needs not only to read, but to absorb."
